(Special to the Courier)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5 — Calling for a Republican victory in Philadelphia as a means of pointing the way to the return of this nation to sanity and solvency in the Presidential election next year, U. S. Senator Edward Martin (R., Pa.) Saturday unqualifiedly indorsed Daniel A. Poling for Mayor in the course of an address to the Pennsylvania Young Republicans conference here.

His address, in part, was as follows: "The eyes of the whole nation are on Philadelphia because this election is of paramount importance to 1952. Those who tell you it has nothing to do with national issues are either deliberately trying to deceive you or they know nothing of practical politics.

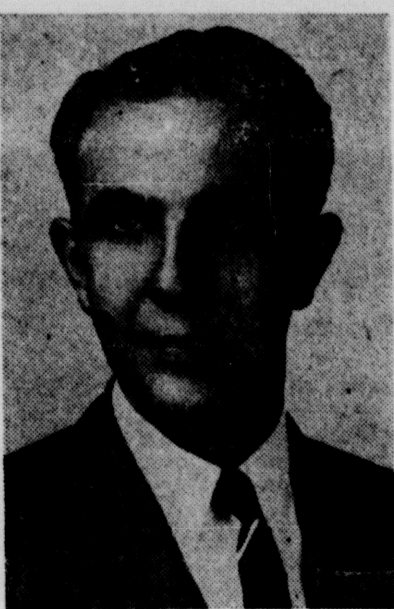

Republican victory next Tuesday will be a victory for the kind of Americanism that believes in a strong, dynamic, solvent America. It will point the way to national victory in 1952 when we will elect a Republican President and a Republican Congress.

"Then we can put an end to the disastrous course of confusion, corruption and Communism at Washington.

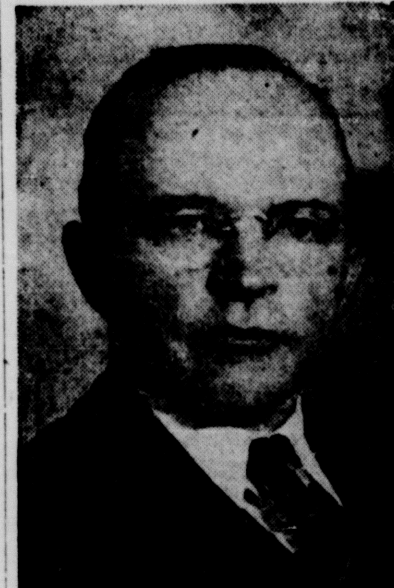

"We can return to the sane, sound system established by the Founding Fathers when they drafted the Constitution here in Philadelphia.

"We can stop the wild spending spree which is rushing us down the road to national bankruptcy at the dizzy rate of 100 billion dollars a year.

"We can restore efficiency and USE YOUR RIGHT TO VOTE!

The most striking thing about the recent British election wasn't the outcome, which was anti-socialist by a whisker, but the turnout.

It is estimated that 85 per cent of the eligible voters came out to the polls. This is a terrific outpouring. We think, in this country, we are doing well on the rare occasions when the total reaches seventy-five per cent. Our last national election in 1948 barely reached 50 per cent.

What it means is that the British people are aroused and determined to do something about it. That's how self-government begins, and self-government is the key-stone of liberty.

Economically England is a shambles. Sociologically she is in a straight-jacket. Internationally she has as little prestige as she did in the Middle Ages. The Socialists certainly have dealt harshly with her.

Up to now, the British people seemed crushed and despondent and discouraged. But the signs are that they have recovered their courage and determination. Winston Churchill, if anyone, is the man to lead them out of the Slough of Despond!

Over here, we have all the machinery of self-govern-

1200 Hear of "Security In A Troubled World"

BURLINGTON, N. J., Nov. 5—Approximately 1200 persons gathered in Lawrence Elementary school auditorium to hear L. A. Swingle, a representative of the Watchtower Society, discuss the subject, "Security In A Troubled World." This was the highlight of the three-day circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Mr. Swingle pointed out how world wars, misery and death experienced today are not from God, but spring from a devil-inspired desire to dominate the world.

"These conditions of insecurity will continue till Armageddon, which will come on this generation," Mr. Swingle asserted, "and the only place to find security now is in gaining a knowledge of the Bible, putting full faith and confidence in Jehovah's promises and having the courage of conviction in this time of world's end."

Fifteen symbolized the dedication of their lives to the ministry by being baptized.

The assembly closed with two brief talks, "Doers of the Word," by Claude Zuck, and "The Way of Success," by L. A. Swingle.

NOT SO GREAT EVENTS

Two distinguished college professors have compiled a list of the "10 most decisive events in history," based on a poll of professors of history and supplemented in a $5 book by eyewitness evidence.

Six of the 10 events took place in the 18th, 19th and 20th centuries, which seems as though they were somehow weighed down with modernity.

The discovery of anesthesia in 1846, only 105 years ago, rightly finds a place. The Wright brothers' flight in 1903, beginning man's conquest of the air, isn't in the first 10, though it is in a supplemental list of six.

But the atom bomb is right up there. It is revealed who first split the atom, but not who dared first to split the infinitive.

Most of these events are political, but, as concerns 20th Century mores, it would be interesting to learn who first ate a tomato, known formerly as "love apple" and thought to be poisonous. Oysters, of course, the ancients had, but their slaves had to eat some first before their masters ventured. Another mystery is who first ate eggs.

An old rascal of the 18th Century, evil in both private and public life, is, by indirection, highly regarded. He was the Fourth Earl of Sandwich, whose name is perpetuated as the first of the gentry to eat meat between two slices of bread.

An interesting book would be a volume about "not so great events."

An Iowa man is reported to have revolted and eaten 10 steaks at a sitting.

Winston Churchill probably was too polite to ask Attlee "Where's the money?"

U. S. troops in Korea are fighting with bayonets, considered miracle weapons several centuries ago.

Russia says America pays too much attention to the dollar, not always. There was the time $12,000,000,000 of them were shipped to Russia.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol July 2, 1903. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

NEWPORTVILLE—Fred Vanderbilt, of New York, passed through this place on Sunday with his "red devil" auto at the rate of 56 miles an hour, which threw the mud so high in the air from our macadamized roads that dust flew so thickly it was impossible for Henry Baker to see his horse at a distance of fifty yards.

NEWPORTVILLE—We understand that John W. Birkey, Esq., is studying aerial navigation. He expects to be able to fly to Bristol in about a couple of months. The machine is so constructed that it will carry four passengers. We suppose that John will visit the Algonquin Club, where he will give an exhibition for the benefit of its members.

LOWER BENSALEM—The Rev. Addison Atkins Lamb, rector of Christ P. E. Church, Edgington, and Miss Edith Lindsay Noble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Noble, of New York, were married on June 24th at noon, in the crypt of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York, by the father of the bridegroom, the Rev. Dr. James H. Lamb, rector of Old St. David's Church, Radnor.

The Standard Telephone Company has painted green all its tall poles in the borough from top to bottom.

The Lutherans of Bristol, German and English, are requested to meet at the residence of W. J. David, 257 Radcliffe street, on Monday evening, July 6th, to take preliminary steps toward forming a mission here.

Joseph Quicksall has opened up in the coal business at the Strobel yards at the corner of Bath and Otter streets. New scales have been put in and the yard fixed up in first class shape. The chute wagon made its first appearance upon the street yesterday delivering orders.

At the monthly meeting of the Membership Committee of the Algonquin Club held on Monday evening the following new members were elected: G. M. Dorrance, Esq., H. Hamersley, Robert King, of Bristol and Spencer Hibbs, of Humeville. The club has a membership of 131 and is in a most prosperous condition.

Last Friday evening the members of Fire Company No. 1, accompanied by the Liberty Cornet Band, honored Thomas Scott and his bride with a serenade.

Little Elizabeth Williams, aged about three years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Williams, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday morning. The child was amusing itself in the yard of Frank F. Bell, on Radcliffe street, and toddled down to the wharf, and in some manner fell overboard. Wendell Street, who was playing with the Williams child, saw the baby struggling in the water and quickly notified Isaac Darah, Mr. Bell's butler. The child was floating down stream, and jumping the fence between adjoining properties, Isaac caught the tiny victim and rescued her just as she was disappearing.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA---

All public, private and parochial schools in the Bristol area are invited to send news items for publication in this column which appears frequently.

Neshaminy District

Three students, namely, Connie Nielsen, Patricia Roach and Thomas Potts, from the junior class of the Neshaminy High School, won third prize in a window painting contest at a store in Jenkintown.

The contest was conducted as a part of the Halloween activities for students from several of the secondary schools in Bucks and Montgomery counties. The students received their training in art under the direction of H. Richard Behm, supervisor of art, Neshaminy School District. The students who participated have manifested an interest in art for the past several years and have won prizes in previous contests. In October, 1950, Connie Nielsen won the grand prize in the window painting contest for the Halloween season in the Langhorne area.

The second week of the month of November (12-16) will be an important one for the Neshaminy School District. During that week the schools will conduct their first united charities campaign. This is the first year that such a campaign has been held. In the past innumerable individual drives were held in order to aid various recognized organizations, both local and national. It is felt that one single campaign will be of benefit to everyone concerned. When many small drives are held, they begin to lose their purpose. By conducting a unified drive a better appeal can be made. The name of this campaign will be the Blue Feather Campaign and the campaign symbol is a blue feather. When a recognized charity approaches the school district for funds, a donation will be made to that organization from the funds raised during the Blue Feather Campaign.

The Pearson Mill property, corner of Buckley street and the Forge Road has been leased for a term of years, by The Monarch Emery and Corundum Wheel Co. of Philadelphia, manufacturers of emery and corundum wheels and grinding machinery.

The company is an old-established one and at present has its works at 508-14 Liberty street, Camden. The business of the company has far outgrown the capacity of the Camden plant, and mainly through the efforts of William C. Peirce, who is an indefatigable worker in Bristol's behalf, the concern has decided to locate here.

Elsie Morgan attended the Institute and In-service Advisory Committee meeting recently held in the Assembly Room of the County Education building, Doylestown. Approximately thirty teachers and administrators representing various school districts in the County, met to plan the in-service meetings for the current school year and to begin plans for the 1952 elementary institute.

A summary of the recommendations made in the 345 Institute Evaluation Sheets completed by teachers following attendance at the October Institute held at Quakertown was studied with a view to incorporate teachers' requests and preferences in the over-all planning for in-service work.

COMMUNICATION

Editor, The Courier:
Due to the large number of inquiries received as to why the V. F. W. did not sponsor a window decorating contest again this year, we would like to make the following announcement.

The Chester W. Terchon Post, V. F. W., contacted the following bodies this year to ask their cooperation in again handling the annual window decorating contest, i.e., Mill Street Business Men, Harriman Business Men, Bristol High School and the Chamber of Commerce.

The only reply was received from the Mill Street Business Men. They stated that at a regular meeting, they decided not to go along with the Terchon post this year as they (Mill St. Business Men) did not think that last year's contest was properly supervised.

In regards to this statement the Terchon Post would like to clear up a little point. The Terchon Post sponsored this contest for three years, the first two years the Bristol High School furnished the students with the necessary paint and brushes to take part in the contest. The third year the high school authorities informed the post that they had no available funds to take care of this, and consequently the contest was dropped for that year. The following year the post contacted the Business Men of the town and they agreed to furnish the funds for the paint and brush supply for the students. This year the contest was discontinued because of a charge by the Business Men that the contest was improperly supervised. This statement is not quite clear to us as last year's contest was one of the hardest to judge. At this point we, of the Terchon Post would like to express our regrets for not being able to run the contest again this year.

Due to the fact that the post had the money set aside for the prizes,

SEASONAL PARTY

NEWPORTVILLE, Nov. 5 — Mr. and Mrs. James Grego entertained at a Halloween party, Saturday evening. Decorations were in keeping with the season. Games and ducking for apples were enjoyed. Prizes were awarded. Attending: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest White, Mr. and Mrs. James Hullins and daughters Joan and Doris, Mrs. Robert Cook and children Jean and "Bobby," Mrs. Bernice Cook, Philadelphia.

we have decided to pay the initiation fee of eight boys into the YMCA of our town and sponsor them in the junior basketball league that is being formed. Plans are being laid to also sponsor a baseball team in the midwest league that was so aptly formed and handled by a couple of local civic minded men last year.

The congratulations of the post go to the men who worked so hard last year to make the midwest league a success, and it is the desire of the post to meet with these men to see what can be done for a little further support.

Hoping that this letter will clear up in some way just why the window decorating contest was not held, and at the same time square away in the minds of some, just what is being done with the funds that were appropriated for prizes.

Sincerely,

HENRY R. KORNSTEDT, Jr.
Commander
Chester W. Terchon Post,
V. F. W.

CROYDON SHOWER

CROYDON, Nov. 5—Mrs. Joseph Cassidy, Stella avenue, was guest of honor at a surprise shower, Tuesday evening. The affair was held at the home of her sister, Mrs. Manuel Schmidgall, Cornwells Heights. Beneath pink and blue streamers and a large parasol, a bassinette, trimmed in pink and blue, was piled with the gifts. A "Dutch" luncheon was served from a dining table which had as its centerpiece a large cake decorated with a baby in a bassinette. Participating were: Mrs. Conway Keeney, Sr., Mrs. Conway Keeney, Jr., Mrs. William Aufschlag, Mrs. Harold Findlay, Mrs. Hans Schelch, Mrs. Earl Wislar and daughter Carol, Mrs. William Hall, Miss Dorothy Thrasher, Mrs. Ira Bailey, Mrs. Mildred Hardy, Mrs. Louis Shank, Mrs. Mabel Naylor, Mrs. Horace Beck, Sr., Mrs. Horace Beck, Jr., Mrs. Ezra Johnston, Mrs. Joseph Cantwell, Croydon; Mrs. Andreas Eisenmann, Edgington; Mrs. Robert Johnson, Bristol; Mrs. Martin VanBeuren, Mrs. Anna Witch, Miss Margaret Witch, Mrs. Elizabeth Webb, Mrs. Thomas Eckenson, Mrs. Richard Blaney, Cornwells Heights.

Perhaps RCA Victor was thinking of our growing area when they named this set. These new "super sets" have real pulling power. I can personally attest for that!—Leon Plavin.

economy in government by cutting away needless functions and curtailing non-essential services.

"We can return to sound fiscal policies that will preserve the value of the dollar from the destructive force of inflation.

"We can organize a tax program that will preserve the economic stability of the nation, give incentive to business and industry and give the working man a chance to save and get ahead.

"We can formulate a foreign policy that the people can understand and that will uphold American prestige in every part of the world.

"We can plan and execute our military preparations on a scale that we can afford, keeping in mind that our economic system is an important factor in our defensive strength.

"In other words, we will apply sound, common-sense Republican principles—and the courageous, vigorous, honest leadership which has been so sadly lacking in recent years.

"But I want to impress upon you once more that before we can do these things in Washington, we must put down a solid foundation of Republicanism in our cities, boroughs, townships and counties.

"We must put Republicans of unquestioned integrity and high moral character in our city halls, borough buildings, township offices and courthouses—men whose leadership will assure honest and efficient administration of public affairs.

"I am proud of the Young Republicans. I am proud that I had a part in re-building your organization some years ago when I was Republican State Chairman of Pennsylvania. I am proud that you are contributing so much to Republican victory in our State.

"You are helping to shape the America of the future. You have the biggest stake in the future of our country.

"In building the nation's strength you build for yourselves.

"In fighting for the solvency of the United States, you are defending your own economic security.

"In battling to preserve freedom of the individual against destruction by excessive cost of government, debt and inflation, you are defending your birthright as Americans.

"I need not remind you young men and young women that you and your children will have to pay most of the terrific national debt which now stands at about 260 billion dollars and is going higher.

"I need not remind you that this debt hangs over your heads as a long term mortgage on the future.

"Football games are not won by defense. Wars are not won by defense. Political campaigns are not won by defense.

"Great movements are won by courageous and intelligent offensive.

"You have a great responsibility. I know you will enlist as shock troops in the battle to preserve American freedom. I know you will put all your strength into the offensive and victory will be yours."

It costs you money every time you don't read Want Ads in the Courier.

Newtown Presbyterian Church Setting for Week-End Wedding

NEWTOWN, Nov. 5 — Newtown Presbyterian Church afforded the setting for the marriage of Miss Helen Jean Schondelmeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schondelmeyer, Jr., of South State and Barclay streets, here, on Saturday afternoon at two p. m., to Mr. James A. Dawson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dawson.

The Rev. John E. Mertz, D. D., pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. William S. Kenderdine accompanied Mrs. William Melsky as his rendered "I Love You Truly," "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with tiny pointed collar, covered satin buttons down the front of the tightly fitted bodice and long pointed sleeves over the wrist, with buttons up the sleeve. A wide belt over unpressed pleated skirt with hoops finished the ensemble. Her fingertip veil of English imported tulle fell from a choche of matching lace and satin, without crown, and studded with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white button chrysanthemums, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. John A. Price, matron of honor, wore bronze brocade fashioned with mandarin collar, tightly fitted bodice with cap sleeves, long full skirt. She wore a matching cloche without crown, and carried gold chrysanthemums in a cascade. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Raymond Kitchenman, Philadelphia, an aunt of the bride; Miss Jean O'Brien, Philadelphia, also an aunt, and Miss Jeanette Kriner, Orwigsburg. Their gowns were fashioned like that worn by the matron of honor. Mrs. Kitchenman and Miss Kriner wearing aqua and carrying cascade bouquets of rust chrysanthemums; Miss O'Brien wore American Beauty and carried off-white chrysanthemums. They each wore matching cloches without crowns.

Mr. John Price was best man; and ushers were Messrs. Earl Yost and Fred Beurlie, Newtown, and Raymond Kitchenman, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Schondelmeyer, the bride's mother, chose a royal blue ribbed crepe with black accessories, and wore a corsage of off-white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Dawson, mother of the bridegroom, wore a two-piece black velvet ensemble with black accessories, and her corsage was of pink chrysanthemums.

A reception for 150 was held in Wesley Hall, after which the young couple left for a honeymoon through the south. They will occupy their newly-built home on Creamery road.

The bride is an alumna of Council Rock high school and the Abington Hospital School of Nursing. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Council Rock high school, served three years with the U. S. Air Corps, and is now attending Drexel Institute, Philadelphia. He is co-owner of a radio and television store in Doylestown.

The basketball leagues at the Bristol YMCA are mounting into an overwhelming number of entries. Perhaps this may be due in part to the influx of population because of the industrial boom.

Several teams from outside the borough limits have joined the loops.

In the Midget league for boys 11-14 years of age six teams are entered: Moose Jrs., Vets Jrs., Eagles, Hollow A. C., No-Names, and Bristol Terrace.

In the Junior league for boys 15-17 years of age four teams have entered: Fourth Ward, Harriman Methodist, Andalusia A. A., and Bristol Terrace.

In the Senior league for adults 18 years of age and older eight teams are entered: Croydon A. C., Bensalem A. A., Celtics, Bristol Methodist, Harriman Methodist, 3 M's, Rohm & Haas Jrs., and Rohm & Haas, Srs. Thus making a total of 18 teams which have entered the three leagues.

Although there are numerous problems confronting the YMCA in its endeavor they are leaving these leagues open for other teams desiring to enter. The YMCA feels a need for providing recreation for the community at a cost which barely covers the expense for operating basketball leagues. All the luxuries are being done away with in order to allow more participants to engage in the sport. The entering teams will need only the essentials for playing the game. This Thursday evening has been designated basketball managers meeting night at the "Y". At 6:30 p. m. the Midget League will meet, at 7:30

p. m. the Junior league will meet, teams desiring to enter one of the leagues are invited to their respective meeting.

WARRIORS TO END SEASON TOMORROW

Bristol High will close its home season tomorrow afternoon, meeting Burlington High in the annual "Little Brown Jug" game on the high school field. Kickoff will take place at 2:15 o'clock.

The game was originally scheduled for Saturday afternoon but called because of inclement weather.

Employees of the Manhattan Soap Company will be the guests of the Bristol High School Athletic Association, they occupying a reserved section of the grandstand.

Andy Accardi, star halfback of the Warriors, was injured Friday but Coach "Chick" D'Angelo feels confident that he will be able to see action against the Blue Devils.

Burlington is leading the jug series with 8 wins to Bristol's 7. Three of the games ended in tie scores.

ment, and have been letting it rust—at least, at the national level.

Countywise and locally, there is more interest, more determination to make certain that the government is sound and competent—not just let things slide.

If the nation were half as well governed as Bucks County, Uncle Sam would be out of the woods—free from debt, taxes only a tiny fraction of the present rates, no front-page scandals and rumors and selling of influence.

You have been getting the advantage of good government in your county affairs — are you interested enough to protect that good government, keep it functioning, retain it in office?

To keep good government, you've got to exert yourself. You've got to re-elect the party and the candidates which have been giving you good government.

In this county, that means voting Republican.

When you go to the polls tomorrow — and be sure to go! — vote for the Republican candidates. You can vote for all of them with a single cross-mark — just find the word Republican in the party-column on your ballot, and put an "X" after it, thus:
